A Woman's Back

Has many aches and pains caused by weakness and falling, or other displacement, of the pelvic organs. Other symptoms of female weakness are frequent headache, dizziness, imaginary specks or dark spots floating before the eyes, gnawing sensation in stomach, dragging or bearing down in lower abdominal or pelvic region, disagreeable drains from pelvic organs, faint spells with general weakness. If any considerable number of the above symptoms are present there is no remedy that will give quicker relief or a more permanent cure than Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It has a record of over forty years of cures. It is the most potent invigorating tonic and strengthening medicine known to medical science. It is made of the glyceric extracts of native medicinal roots found in our forests and contains not a drop of alcohol or harmful, or habit-forming drugs. Its ingredients are all printed on the bottle wrapper and attested under oath as correct.

Every ingredient entering into "Favorite Prescription" has the written endorsement of the most eminent medical writers of all the several schools of practice—more valuable than any amount of non-professional testimonials—though the latter are not lacking, having been contributed voluntarily by grateful patients in numbers to exceed the endorsements given to any other medicine extant for the cure of woman's ills.

You cannot afford to accept any medicine of unknown composition as a substitute for this well proven remedy or known composition, even though the dealer may make a little more profit thereby. Your interest in regaining health is paramount to any selfish interest of life and it is an insult to your intelligence for him to try to palm off upon you a substitute. You know what you want and it is his business to supply the article called for.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original "Little Liver Pills" first put up by Dr. Pierce over forty years ago, much imitated but never equalled. Little sugar-coated granules—easy to take and candy.

SUICIDE IN A STORE.

Leo R. Brewer, 55 years old, a former employee of the wholesale dealing firm of A. J. Bates & Co., of New York, shot and killed himself yesterday afternoon at the store under circumstances that were highly dramatic. The man was discharged Saturday and had frequently visited the store in the apparent hope that he would be taken back. At 3 o'clock he again appeared and talked in a rambling manner to several of his old friends. They tried to quiet him, and in reply to their advice that the best thing for him to do would be to go home, he declared that he intended to kill someone before he got out.

Several of the clerks persuaded Brewer to leave the place, but, unknown to them, he returned and entered the office of A. J. Bates, president and treasurer of the firm, which is near the door. Mr. Bates, who was in the office at the time, asked Brewer what he could do for him.

In reply Brewer took out a box of cartridges from his pocket and said to his former employer: "Just look at those."

Mr. Bates took the package, keeping his eyes on Brewer all the time. The man then took from his pocket a large bulldog revolver and put a shot into the floor of the office. Before Mr. Bates could restrain Brewer he had placed the revolver in his temple and pulled the trigger. He rolled over on the floor dead.

The reports of the pistol started an instant panic among the clerks and customers in the store, which was crowded at the time. Thirty girls employed as typewriters all screamed at once and rushed into the street. A dozen men rushed into the office, where they saw the president of the concern standing over Brewer. Smoke still curled from the revolver gripped tightly in the dead man's right hand.

Kodol is a scientific preparation of vegetable acids with natural digestants and contains the same juices found in a healthy stomach. Each dose will digest more than 3,000 grains of good food. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

CANFIELD "PALACE" SOLD.

The old Canfield gambling palace, No. 5 east Forty-fourth street, has been sold at a trifle over the mortgage of $100,000 on it, to a mysterious company, the identity of which is hidden under the name—used for the first time in realty circles—of the Ywis Realty Company.

What the Ywis Company intends to do with the property could not be learned nor could any one be found who could explain the name. It is said that if a drunken man tries to pronounce the word he makes a noise like the buzz of a roulette ball in action. It does not stand for a brand of Swiss cheese. It is an obsolete English adverb. "Ywis" in the early days of English literature meant "I know." Chaucer wrote, "Ywis, quod he, it is full dear I say," and Spencer once, speaking about a knight said: "Right good knight and true of words, Ywis."

When District Attorney Jerome closed the house Canfield held "I. O. U's" of various patrons aggregating several hundred thousands, and the "old days of the palace" are like the word Ywis, almost forgotten.

The best remedy known today for all stomach troubles is Kodol, which is guaranteed to give prompt relief. It is a natural digestant; it digests what you eat, it is pleasant to take. Sold by W. F. Creighton & Co.

KILLED IN ACCIDENT.

Two persons were killed and sixteen injured near Chester, Pa., last night, when a special train carrying the Philadelphia Orchestra crashed into the rear end of a derailed freight train. Two of the four coaches on the special train rolled down a fifteen-foot embankment.

The special train left Wilmington, Del., over the Baltimore and Ohio at 10:45 o'clock. The orchestra had just completed an engagement there and was returning to Philadelphia.

The orders were given properly, but the freight train that should have gotten out of the way was derailed in some way, and the engineer on the special could not bring his train to a stop in time after he had seen the warning signal.

When the coaches were derailed many of the members of the orchestra were severely bruised and some of them cut by falling glass.

BOY KILLED.

One boy is dead from stab wounds and three others are seriously hurt as a result of a fight in which twenty boys participated in the correctional institution on Randall's Island, New York. The dead boy was Meyer O'Shansky, fifteen years old. Raffello Slonox, the same age, is under guard at the institution, charged with having inflicted the wound which caused O'Shansky's death. All the boys involved in the trouble were inmates of the institution.

The fight occurred Saturday evening, when 240 boys were at recreation in the play room of the big building.

Two knives were found nearby after the fight. Those who received wounds are apparently in a serious condition.

The knives with which the boys were armed had been stolen from the teachers' desks in the school room.
